Expanded Noun Phrases

These are examples of noun phrases.

the park a kite some trees two children

If we want to describe the nouns (the objects or things or people) in these phrases in more detail we can expand the phrases.

We do it like this:

Add some adjectives to tell us more about the noun.

the big park a bright, cheerful kite some tall, thin trees two happy children

If we use two adjectives we usually separate them with a comma.

2. Modify the adjective with adverbs. The adverbs tell you more about the adjectives.

the really big park a very bright, cheerful kite some extremely tall, thin trees two rather happy children

Add a prepositional phrase. The prepositional phrase tells you a bit more about where or when things happen or how things relate to one another.

> the really big park with a singing gorilla a very bright, cheerful kite beside the path some extremely tall, thin trees on top of the hill two rather happy children before bedtime

Avoiding Nighttime Worries

Both Eric and Billy have things that worry or upset them at bedtime. Eric has horrible lizard dreams while Billy worries about all sorts of quite scary things happening to him.

What advice would you give to someone who was worried about settling down in bed at night?

Read the suggestions below. You might also have some really good ideas of your own that are not on the list.

- have a special toy or teddy with you
- leave the bedroom door open
- ❖ leave a light on
- tell your family about anything that is bothering you
- read a cheerful, happy story
- use worry dolls
- use a dream catcher

Pick the three best ideas of your own or from the list. On My Advice, write a paragraph about each one.

For each, say what the idea is.

Then explain why or how you think that would really help someone who was worried at night.

Look at In the Park. List all the changes that happen from one side of the lamppost to the other. What other strange things can you see in the picture?

The Past Tense 1

All full sentences have an active verb in them.

The verb is the action or 'doing' word in the sentence.

I looked for Victoria. I ran towards the slide.

Smudge and Charles played on the seesaw.

All these verbs are in the simple form of the past tense. They describe a single action that has already happened – in the past, a while ago.

Stories are usually written in the past tense because they describe things (even imagined things) that happened in the past.

Some verbs are 'being' or 'feeling' words.

Albert was happy. Smudge's Dad felt sad.

Verbs can also be in the present tense.

I look for Victoria. I run towards the slide.
Smudge and Charles play on the seesaw

Here the action in each sentence happens right now, in the present moment.

Some past tense verbs have -ed on the end of their present tense form.

look/ looked play/ played

But many change more completely when going from the present to the past tense:

run/ran see/saw

are/were feel/felt

Voices Verbs

What to do:

- Read the text.
- 2. Highlight the verbs in the simple past tense.
- 3. Six verbs have accidentally been left in the present tense. Whoops!
- 4. Find these. Rewrite each of them in the simple past tense on the lines below the text.

It was Tuesday, and Smudge and Charles return with the dogs to the park. Victoria and Albert dashed off and splash in the fountain once again, while the two children swing cheerfully on the monkey bars. They bought ice creams from the van at the park's gates. The sky was blue, the sun shines and both Smudge and Charles felt happy together. They knew their parents loved them really, but it was still nice to have walked to the park with just the dogs. They laugh when Victoria chased a squirrel into the trees, and when Albert got his nose wraps up in an old crisp packet.

Voices Verbs

Answers

It was Tuesday, and Smudge and Charles return with the dogs to the park.

Victoria and Albert dashed off and splash in the fountain once again, while the two children swing cheerfully on the monkey bars. They bought ice creams from the van at the park's gates. The sky was blue, the sun shines and both Smudge and Charles felt happy together. They knew their parents loved them really, but it was still nice to have walked to the park with just the dogs. They laugh when Victoria chased a squirrel into the trees, and when Albert got his nose wraps up in an old crisp packet.

Victoria's Voice, Albert's Voice

Imagine that you are either Victoria, Charles's golden coloured dog, orAlbert, Smudge's black and white dog.

- Write either Victoria or Albert's account of their day out.
- Give your dog their own 'voice' describe the things that happened in the park (meeting a new dog, chasing through the trees and all over the park, swimming in the fountain, playing on the bandstand) from your point of view.
- Mention what you think of the dog you met and what you think of the other characters in the story.
- As you are writing a story, make sure your sentences are in the simple past tense.
- Draw or paint a picture in the style of Anthony Browne to go with your writing. Include some strange or unusual things in your picture!

Friday:

- 1. Story time
- ♣ Go back to https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=58kla7Ghxas Re-listen to Voices in the Park.
  - 2. The progressive past tense Read the information on Past Tense 2: progressive form.
- Use what you have learned to complete the exercises on the use of the Progressive form of the past tense.
  - 3. Writing an email Think about what Charles and Smudge might have done when they got home from the park. Read the instructions on An Email from Charles or Smudge.
- Use the email template to write out your message.
- Check your work carefully: did you use examples of the progressive form of the past tense in your writing?

Now try this Fun-Time Extra (Optional):

- ♣ Write an email reply back to your character from either Charles or Smudge.
- ♣ What does your park or playground or rec area have in it? Draw a picture of your park on My Park and write about what sort of things you like doing there with your friends and family.

Past Tense 2: progressive form

Past tense verbs can be in the progressive or continuous form.

Albert was finding his ball.

Smudge and I were playing in the park.

Victoria was running down the path.

Our parents were sitting on the bench.

These are in the past tense, but describe something that carried on happening, something that lasted for a while.

Victoria was running. - so Victoria carried on running ...

We were playing. - so we kept on playing for a while...

Often the progressive form is used to show that something is continuing whilst another event occurs.

I was looking (progressive) for Charles but his mum pushed me out.

The dogs were sniffing (progressive) in the grass when the park keeper appeared. (simple)

Verbs in the progressive past are created by writing was (singular) or were (plural) + a verb ending in -ing.

He was playing

We were laughing

They were running away!

Using the Progressive Past

sat	jumped	ran
barked	talked	felt
2. These sentences begi	n with clauses in the progressive form. Add	a clause in the simple past to finish the sentenc	e.
Smudge's Dad was read	ing his newspaper when
Charles and Smudge we	re calling for the dogs but
The park was closing for	the night but
3. Begin these sentence	s with a clause in the progressive form of pa	st tense.
		when his Mum looked up in amaz	ement.
		but Albert had already gone	home

An Email from Charles or Smudge

Charles and Smudge have arranged to email each other at the end of the day and say what they have been doing since they got home from the park.

- 1. Decide whether you are going to be Smudge or Charles.
- Think about the three or four things that you did after getting home from the park and that you want to tell your new friend about.
- 3. Use the email template to write your message to your friend.
- Because your email is a recount of what you have already done, write your message in the past tense.
- Make sure you use examples of the progressive from of the past tense in your writing – was waiting, were laughing, etc.
- 6. Use your best handwriting for your email.
- Read your work through carefully at the end to check for spelling mistakes and errors over verb tense.
